What is EqualityCare?

EqualityCare (Wyoming's Medicaid program) provides free health care coverage for children and teens, pregnant women, and adults with children who qualify.

Does my family qualify?

To qualify for EqualityCare the person applying must live in Wyoming and be a U.S. citizen or a lawful permanent resident.

Applicants must also qualify by income. Income guidelines vary by program and increase every year on April 1.

Some other guidelines also vary by program. If you would like more information about the programs, please call us at your local Department of Family Services (DFS) office or 1-877-543-7669 from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m., Monday to Friday. We are happy to help.

What does EqualityCare cover?

EqualityCare covers everything from regular checkups, immunizations, and well-baby visits to emergency care, prescriptions, hospital visits, vision, and dental - just to name a few.

EqualityCare covers pre-existing conditions and can be used as back-up insurance if you have a private insurance policy.

EqualityCare can sometimes help with unpaid medical bills for services up to 3 months before you apply.

How do I apply?

Call 1-877-KIDS NOW (1-877-543-7669) and we will send you an application. You can also download an application at <http://kidcare.state.wy.us> or pick one up from your local Public Health Nurse, DFS office, Indian Health Services, WIC or a school nurse.

EqualityCare for Children

Children may qualify for EqualityCare until they turn 19.

EqualityCare for Parents

When applying for the EqualityCare program that provides health benefits for parents, families may be asked to supply additional information to their local DFS office.

Pregnant Woman Program

This program covers all prenatal and postnatal care for the mother as well as automatic coverage for the baby for 1 year after birth.

Other Programs

Please contact your local DFS office for information about other assistance programs that might benefit your family.
